Goal Overview

Goal Statement

- Deliver tools and metrics for EPA and its Tribal, state, local, and community partners to advance environmental justice and external civil rights compliance. By September 30, 2023, EPA will develop and implement a cumulative impacts framework, issue guidance on external civil rights compliance, establish at least 10 indicators to assess EPA's performance in reducing disparities in environmental and public health conditions, and train staff and partners on how to use these resources.

Problem to Be Solved

- EPA has made progress preparing for full integration of environmental justice and civil rights compliance throughout our policies, programs, and activities. Preparation efforts have not been enough to actualize full integration throughout the Agency due to the need for more progress on critical issues such as understanding and applying cumulative impacts analysis. Additionally, metrics used by EPA have not focused Agency attention on eliminating disparities in overburdened communities.
- EPA has relied primarily on a reactive rather than proactive approach to civil rights enforcement, including not fully implementing its authority to address actions, policies and practices by recipients of EPA funding that have a discriminatory impact on overburdened and disadvantaged communities and issuing clear policy guidance to address this issue.

What Success Looks Like

- Through clear and meaningful metrics, EPA will be able to evaluate its success in eliminating public health and environmental disparities.
- EPA staff and partners will have a cumulative impacts framework and will understand how to implement the cumulative impacts framework, civil rights guidance, and other tools through the training provided.
- EPA will have strong policy guidance to provide clarity internally and externally about the investigative and legal standards that are applied to external civil rights claims, including those concerning permitting and how cumulative impacts will be evaluated when assessing whether an action, policy or practice, including in the permitting context, has an unjustified disparate and adverse impact. The guidance will promote compliance with the civil rights laws and discrimination issues plaguing the most vulnerable communities.

Goal Strategies

Strategy 1: Develop cumulative impacts framework and implementation plan

Develop a fit for purpose framework to enable the integration of cumulative impacts throughout EPA's policies, programs, and activities – from cleanups and enforcement to permitting and rulemaking. Developing this framework is essential to centering EPA's mission on environmental justice and ensuring that EPA's decisions are responsive to environmental justice realities on the ground and inclusive of issues that intersect compliance with civil rights compliance. Training and other materials to accompany this framework will also be developed for use by EPA staff and made public to enable their use by governmental partners and the public.

Strategy 2: Issue guidance on external civil rights compliance

Issue policy guidance to provide clarity internally and externally about the investigative and legal standards that EPA applies to discrimination complaints filed against EPA financial assistance recipients under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and other federal civil rights laws, including those in the permitting context and how cumulative impacts will be evaluated when assessing whether an action, policy or practice has an unjustified disparate and adverse impact.

Strategy 3: Establish a set of at least ten indicators to assess EPA's performance in reducing disparities in environmental and public health conditions

Develop at least ten indicators of disparities that highlight the differential outcomes in areas such as health and access to benefits. Through these indicators, EPA will make specific commitments to advance equity and justice, reduce and eliminate disparities in environmental and public health conditions, and comply with civil rights requirements by changing conditions on the ground for overburdened and vulnerable communities. These indicators will be easy to understand and meaningful to community members. EPA will then measure its success at achieving these goals year-over-year. Activities to achieve these reductions will range from actions EPA can take wholly within its authorities and resources to activities to better support the actions of other governmental partners.

Narrative – FY22 Q1

Summary of progress

EPA did not have any planned milestones for FY 2022, Q1.

Accomplishments:

- EPA established a working group to determine the indicators and milestones for this APG.

Challenges:

- EPA is currently limited in resources and has a confluence of important initiatives happening all at once to advance equity, justice and civil rights. Advancing environmental justice and external civil rights compliance is necessary to fulfill EPA's mission to protect human health and the environment.

Narrative – FY22 Q2

Summary of progress

Although progress was made, EPA did not complete any targeted milestones in FY 2022 Q2.

Strategy 3: Number of milestones completed to develop at least ten indicators to assess EPA's performance in reducing disparities	0	Target	-	2	4	6	6	8	10	12	↑
		Actual	-	0

Accomplishments:

- EPA internal stakeholder groups representing every region and national program have been engaging monthly to advance the Agency Priority Goal and make progress on strategy milestones. From these engagements, EPA is building a strong foundation for accomplishing this cross-cutting APG.

Challenges:

- For Strategy 2, EPA missed the planned milestone to create a team to define, scope and develop the external civil rights guidance. EPA expects to onboard a Senior Policy Detailee to create the team in FY 2022 Q3 and get this work back on track. That being said, EPA has already assembled several active working groups whose collective work will inform Strategy #2, and together with new resources in ECRCO will contribute to its completion. The working groups are:
 - OGC/Office of Regional Council (ORC) Equity & Environmental Justice Working Group;
 - Environmental Justice, Equity & Civil Rights in Permitting Community of Practice;

Narrative – FY22 Q2

- Environmental Justice & Equity in Rulemaking Community of Practice.
- For Strategy 3, EPA missed the planned milestones to develop criteria and establish an internal engagement process to develop at least ten indicators to assess EPA's progress in reducing disparities. The Office of Environmental Justice has been engaging with EPA programs, regional offices, and Agency leadership on these milestones to solicit meaningful feedback on the approaches to take to fulfill each action. These engagements took longer than we initially thought they would. Although slightly delayed, EPA is establishing a cross-agency workgroup and is in a good place to get back on track in early Q3

Narrative – FY22 Q3

Summary of progress

EPA has completed 4 of the targeted 7 milestones as of FY 2022, Q3.

Strategy 3: Number of milestones completed to develop at least ten indicators to assess EPA's performance in reducing disparities	0	Target	-	2	4	6	6	8	10	12	↑
		Actual	-	0	3

Accomplishments:

- For Strategy 1, EPA has developed the outline for the cumulative impacts framework and is making significant progress on developing the content needed within the outline.
- For Strategy 2, EPA developed and will soon be releasing Interim EPA Environmental Justice and Civil Rights in Permitting Frequently Asked Questions or “FAQs,” a baseline document which will help inform the draft guidance, and provides information to Agency, federal, tribal, state, and local environmental permitting programs to help them understand how they may integrate environmental justice (EJ) in permitting processes and are obligated, if they are recipients of EPA financial assistance (“EPA recipients”), to comply with federal civil rights statutes, including Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, in their permitting processes. Also, EPA will soon release a Cumulative Impacts Addendum to EJ Legal Tools, which is another precursor to guidance development.
- For Strategy 3, the first three out of four milestones have been completed. EPA has established the criteria to guide the selection of proposed indicators, created a mechanism for submitting proposed indicators to ensure the criteria is met or can be met, has established a roadmap for an internal engagement process, and has an initial list of 30 proposed indicators.

Narrative – FY22 Q3

Challenges:

- For Strategy 1, no challenges.
- For Strategy 2, EPA has not been able to draft the external civil rights compliance guidance due to competing priorities.
- For Strategy 3, EPA missed the milestone of engaging external stakeholders on the proposed indicators. EPA is now working to further analyze the proposed indicators. Once this is completed, EPA will be able to start scheduling engagements with our external stakeholder groups to solicit feedback on the list of proposed indicators.

Narrative – FY22 Q4

Summary of progress

EPA has completed 6 of the targeted 10 milestones as of FY 2022 Q4.

Strategy 3: Number of milestones completed to develop at least ten indicators to assess EPA's performance in reducing disparities	0	Target	-	2	4	6	6	8	10	12	↑
		Actual	-	0	3	3

Accomplishments:

- For Strategy 1, EPA has completed an iterative draft cumulative impacts framework. To continue building on the draft framework, EPA is implementing a learning agenda, developing standard operating procedures, conducting workshops with a variety of regulatory partners and stakeholders, actively working on demonstration initiatives, and incorporating cumulative impacts in regional implementation planning as part of Goal 2 of the Strategic Plan.
- For Strategy 2, work has progressed on an external civil rights compliance guidance on procedural safeguards. EPA also created an outline of the draft guidance on legal standards for external civil rights compliance.
- For Strategy 3, EPA has been evaluating each of the initial list of 30 proposed indicators based on established criteria. EPA has also begun to schedule several of the planned engagement sessions with stakeholders to solicit feedback on the proposed indicators.

Narrative – FY22 Q4

Challenges:

- For Strategy 1, there are no challenges to report.
- For Strategy 2, although work has begun on the draft external civil rights compliance guidance on legal standards, significant work remains with limited resources. Competing priorities continue to pose challenges; however, an additional temporary resource was made available to assist with drafting the guidance.
- For Strategy 3, EPA continues to be delayed on engaging external stakeholders to solicit feedback on the proposed indicators (Q3 milestone), this has created a delay for Q4 milestones. EPA has scheduled several of the planned engagement sessions and has also planned time for incorporating feedback to prepare for final decisions on the indicators. This will allow EPA to catch up by early Q2 of FY 2023. EPA has adjusted the schedule of milestones based on this delay.

Narrative – FY23 Q1

Summary of progress

EPA has completed 10 of the targeted 14 milestones as of FY 2023, Q1.

Strategy 3: Number of milestones completed to develop at least ten indicators to assess EPA's performance in reducing disparities	0	Target	-	2	4	6	6	8	10	12	↑
		Actual	-	0	3	3	5

Accomplishments:

- For Strategy 1, with the completion of the iterative draft cumulative impacts framework, EPA has been conducting engagement activities internally with EPA offices and externally with the National Environmental Justice Advisory Council (NEJAC) and other stakeholders to gather initial feedback on the framework. To supplement the draft framework, the Office of General Counsel has completed a cumulative impacts legal addendum and the Office of Research and Development has completed a research recommendation report. In addition, EPA has initiated demonstration projects with regions, completed three 'lessons learned' workshops, and initiated other educational activities to help inform the development and operationalization of the cumulative impacts framework.
- For Strategy 2, work continues to progress on the external civil rights compliance guidance on procedural safeguards and is targeted for issuance by the end of Q2. EPA has drafted multiple sections of the draft guidance on legal standards for external civil rights compliance.
- For Strategy 3, EPA completed engagements with the NEJAC, several Federal partners, communities, and tribes to provide an overview and solicit feedback on the proposed draft indicators. Feedback from these engagements focused mainly on suggestions for additional indicators to consider in the future when data are more readily available. These suggestions did not result in changes to the current list of proposed indicators. These engagements will continue as EPA works through the remainder of the milestones in FY23.

Challenges:

- For Strategy 1, there are no challenges to report.
- For Strategy 2, steady progress is being made, but difficulties remain with limited resources and competing priorities. In addition, the completion of guidance documents requires inter-agency engagement, which can also result in delays. Finally, the temporary resource that was made available to assist with drafting the legal standards guidance will be ending in FY 2023, Q2.
- For Strategy 3, there are no challenges to report.

Narrative – FY23 Q2

Summary of progress

EPA has completed 11 of the targeted 18 milestones as of FY 2023, Q2.

Accomplishments:

- For Strategy 1, developed training resources on cumulative impacts framework for EPA staff and continued work on training resources for partners.
- For Strategy 2, no update at this time.
- For Strategy 3, no update at this time.

Challenges:

- For Strategy 1, ongoing review has resulted in additional time needed to finalize the cumulative impacts framework.
- For Strategy 2, no update at this time.
- For Strategy 3, following engagement with leadership, additional work is needed to reach decision on at least 10 indicators; and to develop the process, and ensure tools are in place, for data collection, reporting, and analysis.

Data Accuracy & Reliability

Performance data collection is managed internally through a tracking system established by OEJECR. There are no quantitative calculations, or significant data limitations.

Stakeholder / Congressional Consultations

These priorities were developed on a foundation of over 30 years of recommendations/reports by the NEJAC, U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO), EPA's Office of Inspector General (OIG), and the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. These priorities have been informed by Congressional inquiries and by draft legislation, and by the constant engagement and feedback received from community members and leaders.
